FOREWORD

Through knowledge all problems, whether minute or monumental, tangible or over-powering, can be solved. Knowledge brings forth wisdom and makes understanding possible. The knowledge and understanding gained during our high school years will guide each of us throughout our lives. The pictures and words recapturing these guide posts are presented here for everyone's benefit. We hope the understanding achieved will help guide your future.

ALMA MATER

Oh, Highland High School now to thee,
We sing our song of loyalty!
We sing thy glory and thy fame,
All praises to thy honored name.
Come and join us while we sing,
We'll make the near-by hillsides ring.
Our faith in thee will never die,
We'll always love thee, Highland High.

Mr. Richard W. Chaffee constantly works for the betterment of our school. As principal, he brings harmony among students, faculty and the administration. Through this, co-operation has always been prevalent.

The English department encompasses three areas of literature: world, studied by the freshmen and sophomores; American, by the juniors; and English, by the seniors.

Grammar is stressed mostly at the freshman and sophomore levels.

Business English has also been added this year for the benefit of commercial students. This stresses grammar, communication, and the other areas needed in the business world.

German, Latin, and Spanish are the foreign languages taught here at Highland. The basic aims of students are to be able to understand, to speak, to read, and to write each language. During the two year course the students learn much about the culture and literature of the old world people as well as developing the basic skills of the languages.

The history department is divided into two areas of history: American and World. American history is to create the kind of citizenship and understanding of other countries that is needed in today's world. World history encompasses three general areas: ancient, middle, and modern ages. It attempts to broaden the students' understanding of other countries. Both World and American history are essential for a liberal education.

American Government is required for all Seniors. In government, students learn to become better citizens by learning how our government operates. They also compare our democracy with other types of governments throughout the world. An awareness of how our country functions produces more informed future citizens.

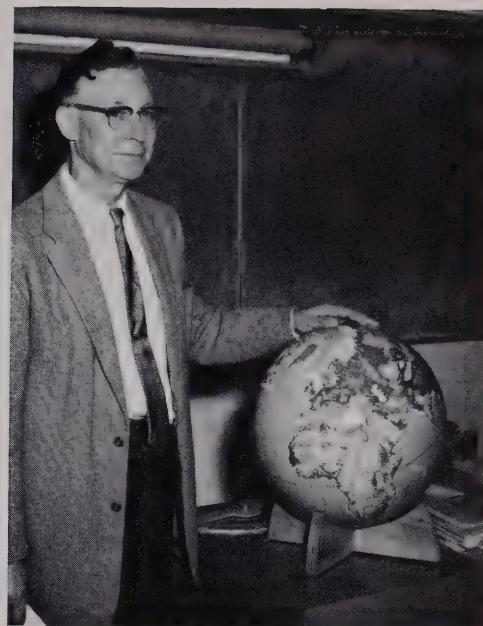

The library is the main place of all academic research, as well as the hub of pleasure for both students and teachers. There are many books available for all fields of study. Also, for the more advanced students, there are many books of more depth, explanatory books, and general information. Many magazines and newspapers are provided for current research and reports.

Biology, General Science, Chemistry, and Physics are the main sciences taught.

Biology gives students an appreciation of nature, a knowledge of the human body, and an awareness of the problems and current trends in biological science.

General Science gives students the general principles of biology, chemistry, and physics.

Chemistry courses basically consist of the fundamentals of the science. Included in the subject matter are essential reactions, the basic elements, and the basic compounds. A course such as chemistry helps students to become accustomed to thinking rather than just memorizing.

Physics has a dual purpose. It helps give students a well-rounded foundation in the physical sciences. It also prepares students for better transition from high school to college in science.

Our Mathematics department offers courses in the following areas: General Math, Algebra, Plane Geometry, Solid Geometry, and Trigonometry.

Mathematics is a reasoning process, and the goal of a math course is to encourage students to apply the logic of math to clear thinking in the problems of everyday life.

The goal of studying Algebra is to help one develop skill in the fundamentals of abstract Mathematics. Geometry gives a basis for logical proof and provides a background for more advanced math.

Commercial subjects provide training in such essential tools of business as Bookkeeping, Shorthand, and Typing. Highland offers General Business, Bookkeeping, Shorthand I and II, Typing I and II, and Office Practice.

General Business gives a basic background of the mathematical world of business, while Bookkeeping takes a business transaction from beginning to end.

Shorthand I consists of learning the basic fundamentals of reading and writing shorthand along with some dictation and transcription. Shorthand II is mainly concerned with building up the students' speed in dictation and transcription. It is quite a challenge for Shorthand II students to see how quickly and efficiently they can do their work.

Typing I concentrates on the development of skill and speed, while Typing II stresses the basic fundamentals of various types of business communication.

Office Practice gives the student the experience needed upon entering the business world, emphasizing the numerous types of business machines and modern methods of filing and correspondence.

In addition to forming the necessary foundation for further commercial study, such subjects equip the college-bound student with beneficial and time-saving skills.

In our world today it is important that we are safe and careful drivers. Driver Education teaches the students basic driving skills and also informs the students about the laws, insurance, what makes a car "go," and what to look for when buying a car.

Road classes give the students the opportunity to put to use what they have learned in the classroom. On the road they gain practical experience with the aid of a skilled instructor at their side.

The Home Ec. Department is divided into many areas: foods, clothing, child care, home furnishings, and creative stitchery. The first semester, child care is offered to give the girls an understanding and knowledge of the care of children from birth through the younger years. It is a new course and is thoroughly enjoyed by many.

There are many other areas, including home furnishings. In this course, the girls learn how to choose the proper styles and makes of furniture. They also learn how to refinish and recover furniture. It is hoped that this course will benefit girls in their future lives.

Industrial Arts gives the students a background in wood and metal working, and mechanical drawing. The student projects develop both the practical and artistic aspects of these skills. Many students have already decided on their careers and are preparing themselves for the job by polishing their skills in Industrial arts.

The goals of the physical education department are to develop physically fit adults possessing co-ordination, agility, endurance, strength, fundamental skills of physical activity, general knowledge of team and individual sports, and self discipline.

While gym classes develop the body, the health classes develop the mind. Health classes are designed to build good grooming habits, produce safe drivers, and mold sound adults, proficient in everything from making a bed to putting on a splint.

Our group guidance program helps students to understand their problems and to answer them. Mrs. Myers helps students to understand their abilities and helps them strive for a greater comprehension of approaching adult responsibilities. She helps answer the questions that arise when the time has come to select the courses a student should take, the college he should choose or the profession that is best for him.

Our art classes help to develop artistic talents in the students of our school. Their works are exhibited in several state-wide, county-wide, and nation-wide contests.

Our music department trains students to appreciate music while they take part in the concerts and contests. It consists of glees, chorus, ensembles, and band.

N. Mozena, L. Lucht, R. Maynard, C. Massarelli, S. Hazen, L. Pursley, J. Noss, and P. Repp assist Mrs. Webster with her office duties.

GUIDANCE

Guidance classes are a new asset to Highland's curriculum this year. Juniors and Seniors receive information pertaining to their plans for the future. This includes information about colleges, entrance examinations, and job opportunities. The underclassmen see sound-sight programs on various subjects including how to improve their grades.

LIBRARY STAFF

The Library Staff—S. Willard, D. Bowman, K. Brown, J. Stiles, L. Bonnet.

Our school library is run in an efficient manner. There are hundreds of books on subjects students want to know about. The new addition to the school will include a new and larger library.

COOKS AND HELPERS

HOOME COMING

FRIDAY

Co-captain, Rick Petroc kisses Queen Patty Repp while he presents her the game ball.

The Queen and her court ride around the field on a beautiful float that was prepared by the Freshmen.

Greg Kramer carries the ball for Highland.

Highland football players hang on to the ball and press for extra yardage as two Fineland players give chase

Where's the ball? It seems that only the referee knows as he is making a call.

Alumni are just a part of Homecoming ceremonies. Here just a few Alumni congregate to talk over summer events.

As the excitement of the game subsides, we see that the decorations are in readiness for the dance Saturday night. The Juniors decorated the gym in a Japanese theme.

The Queen's dance . . .

Sophomores serve refreshments . . .

Pat Snyder looks on as Paul Renner concentrates on his shot.

"Uh, Tom, I think you'd do better if you used the right end of the club."

A lively game of keep-away adds fun in the swimming pool.

Bowling was a popular activity enjoyed by juniors, seniors, and faculty members.

Everyone enjoyed a delicious steak dinner in the beautifully decorated auditorium.

Dr. Harvey, the guest speaker, gave an excellent talk and showed slides of his visits to the South Seas islands.

“SOUTH PACIFIC”

On April 22, 1966, after much hard work by the junior class, the gymnasium was transformed into a South Seas island, complete with grass shacks, brilliantly colored birds, and palm trees. After the dinner, a festive evening of dancing followed at Stan Hywet in Akron.

The afternoon activities included bowling and pool at the Riviera Lanes, swimming at the Y.W.C.A. in Akron, and miniature golf at Montrose.

Kathy Cekanski, the senior class secretary, read the Senior Will.

Mike Preuter, the senior class president, assisted with the Will.

Jeanette Goik delivered the Senior Prophecy.

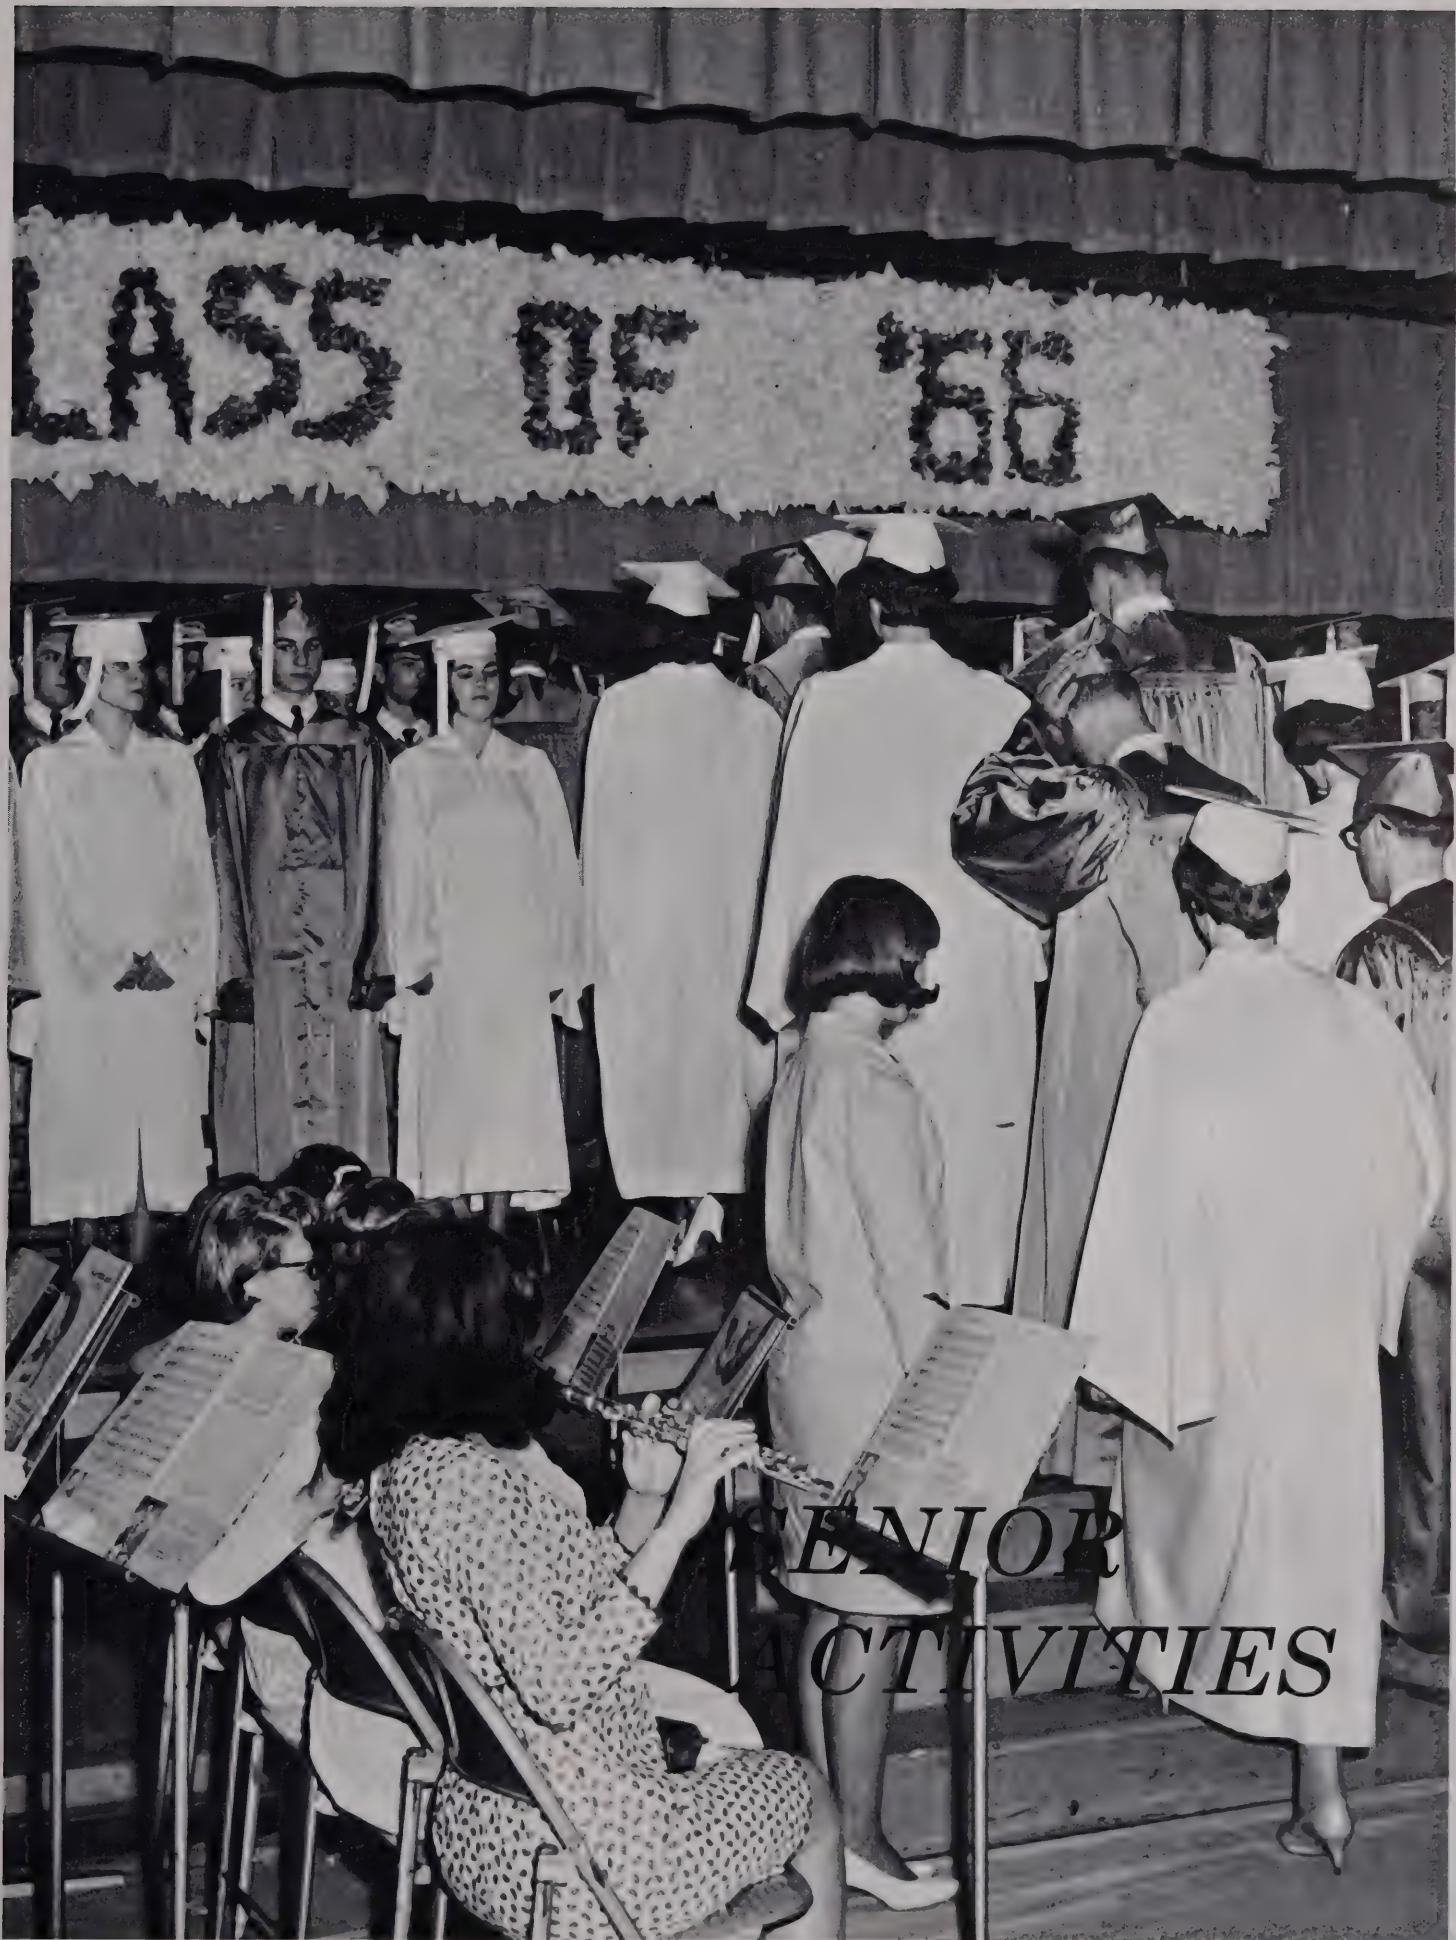

Happy smiles prove the success of this unforgettable evening.

"I'm just glad we're not responsible for this group after 1:00."

Dancing adds the finishing touches to a fun-filled day.
